Nextrove expands in China with the launch of Nextrove China Ltd

Nextrove LLC is proud to announce the establishment of its new subsidiary, Nextrove China Ltd, officially launched in November 2024.

With this new venture, Nextrove is thrilled to introduce two major offerings tailored for the Chinese market:

- NextCloud at AWS China
- Progressive Suite at Salesforce Alibaba

These solutions are designed to meet the growing demand for cloud-based services and automation in the pharmaceutical and clinical research industries.

Expertise in Pharmacovigilance and Technical Services

Nextrove China is committed to supporting local pharmaceutical companies, biotech firms, and Contract Research Organizations (CROs) with unparalleled expertise in pharmacovigilance (PV) and technical services. The local team, fluent in both Chinese and English, ensures seamless communication and collaboration with international partners.

Success Stories in Data Migration

Nextrove has already achieved notable successes in China, as demonstrated by two key case studies:

1. End-to-End Data Migration for a CRO: Utilizing Nextrove's proprietary system-agnostic migration tool, Progressive ClinConnect, the team facilitated a seamless migration from ArisG to Client Argus Cloud. This project also included implementing gateway connections with multiple countries, including China's CDE.
2. Data Migration for a Global Oncology Biotech Company: Nextrove completed a complex migration of case data to a local CRO. The data was split across two single-tenant databases, organized by study protocols, ensuring precision and compliance.
